Valued Supplier,

Yesterday we announced that the Procter & Gamble Company has completed a transaction with Coty Inc. (Press release here), resulting in the transfer of our global fine fragrances, salon professional, cosmetics and retail hair color businesses, along with select hair styling brands (collectively referred to as “P&G Specialty Beauty Brands”).

These brands have been a meaningful and valued part of the P&G family for many years and this move better positions them and P&G to win in our respective segments of the Beauty business. All Business matters related to these brands and to Galleria Co should now be addressed directly with the COTY Purchases Organization.

Thank you for your support in the preparation for this transition and we look forward to our continued relationship on other P&G brands/businesses you may serve. We are now focused on 10 product categories and about 65 brands where P&G has leading market positions and where product technologies deliver performance differences that matter most to consumers.
